

MINISTRY:

“We learn to serve people, not because we will get anything from it or that others will see it, or to gain any moral high ground or superiority, but simply because a person is in need. The core of service to another comes from the example that Jesus Christ set for us.” (Daniel Burton)

Challenge of the Week

Ministry

Practice: Service of listening. Have a conversation with a person you sometimes avoid. Take the time to really listen. Every time you feel yourself wanting to interrupt with your own words, catch yourself. Focus on how you can bless and encourage this person and ignore your own impulse to share your opinion on whatever they are talking about.
