

Challenge of the Week

Bible Study

In The Jesus Storybook Bible, a children's bible written by Sally Lloyd-Jones, the subtitle is one of the most beautiful invitations for how we are to read scripture. Lloyd-Jones teaches us to read the bible where, "every story whispers his name". Every story through the Old Testament points us ahead to Jesus and every story in the New Testament reveals more of his mission, character, and love. In the coming week, take your favorite story in the Old Testament and ask the question, "How does this point me to the character of Jesus?" or "How is this promise fulfilled in Jesus?" Or in the New Testament ask, "How does this story help me know Christ more deeply?" Remember, every story whispers his name, you will meet Jesus no matter where you read.
